Fever and rash checks

Use these steps when a child has a fever followed by a rash.

- [ ] Note whether the fever ended before the rash started.
- [ ] Check for cough, runny nose and red watery eyes.
- [ ] Check the child's MMR vaccine record.
- [ ] Call a doctor right away for a baby under 3 months with 100.4 F (38 C).
- [ ] Call the clinic before visiting if measles is possible.
- [ ] Place a child having a seizure on their side and keep the mouth empty.
- [ ] Call 911 or your local emergency number if a seizure lasts 5 minutes.
- [ ] Keep the child home while the fever lasts.

Notes

For general education only. Not a substitute for professional medical advice.
Read the full article: https://healthhorizonguide.com/diseases/roseola-vs-measles/